Ken and Stan play a major role in the sheet metal shops training and skills refresher program. They have taken the initiative to put on trainings that are innovative and interesting for their coworkers. Their trainings are suppling useful information for them to use the equipment in the shop efficiently and safely and to avoid unnecessary equipment damage. Their positive attitude towards this program is outstanding. They are both role models who go out of their way to promote teamwork. Great job, Stan and Ken!

Ken and Stan were nominated by David Brinsko. The award was presented virtually by Rick Burgess.
