

Cornell University

PARKING OPTIMIZATION STUDY

Come Share Your Thoughts About Campus Parking and Circulation!

Cornell University is conducting a campus-wide open house to gather input from the campus community that will inform the Cornell University Parking Optimization Study.

The workshop is an “open house” format, so feel free to arrive at any time that is convenient to you. There will be interactive activities that will allow you to share your thoughts regarding campus parking and circulation.

When is it?

Wednesday, October 24th
11:00 am - 3:00 pm

Where is it?

Frank HT Rhodes Hall
Room 310

What is this all about?

The intention of the Cornell University Parking Optimization Study is to analyze and assess the parking conditions on the campus and develop strategies for improving the system for all users.

FOOD
WILL BE PROVIDED
AT THE WORKSHOP

You may send written comments to: adria.koller@kimley-horn.com